Mr. Wolf,

Please review the FTC's proposed "Business Opportunity" rule. This rule will negatively impact me, my associates, and my community. I am able to help a lot of people by reaching out and helping them empower themselves financially. I help families spend more time with their children and contribute positively to society instead of working on a job they do not like. I am able to do all this because I am able to show information to someone and sign them up.

As you know you must strike while the iron is hot. A 7 day waiting period on signing new associates would be just enough time for that person to lose interest and not make a valuable decision to change their families' future for generations to come.

Please review and do everything possible to stop the rule from taking effect. Thank you.
